7.2 - Best Practices
7.2.1 - Describe two best practices successfully implemented by the Institution as per NAAC format provided in the Manual.
BEST PRACTICE-I, 2020-21
<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Title: Students' Adalat 2. Goal: i) In order to solve the problems related to educational and intellectual development of the students and the infrastructure having discussion among teachers and students. ii) In order to solve the problems raised in "Students' Adalat" by the administrative system of the college. 3. The context: During last some period students are seen facing some problem in college. Observing this and realizing the need of some solution the college authority and the students' union have decided to provide a platform to the students so that they can confidently share their problems and their suggestions to the college authority. In this regard "Students' Adalat" has been formed.

4. The practice: The students' union with the consent of the teachers arranges a meeting twice a month and learns from all students the grievances and suggestion.

5. Evidence of success: The students' opinion and suggestion help in developing different systems of the college.

6. Problems Encountered and Resources Required: No such problems were faced. The resources for this purpose are the students and the teachers. The active cooperation of students and teachers is required for the smooth running of this students' platform.

7. Notes: The college authority, teachers and students participate in the sitting with great interest.

BEST PRACTICE-II, 2020-21

1. Title: Book Reading habits of Students.

2. Goal: a) To inculcate reading habit amongst students.

b) To discover new books and genres of reading.

c) To encourage critical thinking through stories.

d) To step beyond the prescribed text and unearth remarkable books.

iii) The Context: Reading not only provides endless knowledge and information to the readers, but also keeps the mind active by developing thoughts and ushering new ideas. However, it is seen that there has been a continuous erosion of reading culture amongst students. Either they are mostly bogged down by the formal education system or they no longer can appreciate the reading habit. Keeping the importance of reading in mind and taking into account the present loophole, the College has come up with an important initiative to develop reading habit amongst the students. This will not only accelerate the reading skills but will also help to figure out remarkable books for the reading group.

iv) The Practice: for promoting reading habits, the College organized a programme under the banner 'Kitap Porhu Aha'. Accordingly, a reading list was provided to the students encompassing both Assamese and English books-fiction and non-fiction. Interested students had to select one book, read it and write a book review of the selected text. Awards were given to students who came up with exceptional reviews. This brought in a new zeal amidst the young readers' group. Thus many students joined in the campaign.

v) Evidence of Success: It has been observed that many students participated in the programme, thus the outcome is positive. This step has been able to yield encouraging results which shall be carried forth by the college in the long run.

vi) Problems Encountered and Resources Required: There are no significant problems encountered while implementing this practice. Resources required are book- some of them are provided by the College Library. Moreover, students had the option to choose out of a bilingual setup-Assamese and English writings. Therefore no major impediment obstructed the way.

vii) Note: With reading comes learning. Since reading expands the horizon by bringing in new perceptions and altering a few, therefore it is the need of the hour to let the students know about its importance and undertake the noble practice.
